

ADAM BOMB

THE RAPTIVIST

Full Bio

He rose from the street corner to the corner office — not by chance, but by choice. AdamBomb The Raptivist is a rapper, activist, and independent researcher whose life has been a sustained act of self-determination: absorbing wisdom from every win and every wound, letting purpose sharpen his hustle and truth fuel his pen.

Made with the spirit of a hustler, the mind of a researcher, and the heart of an activist — his music is what happens when the pursuit of truth meets the hunger of the streets. Every bar is earned. Every concept is lived.

Has Risen — his debut album releasing July 2026 — is not an introduction. It's a declaration. Structured as a seven-track transformation arc moving from Problem to Arrival, the project meets you where you are and takes you somewhere you did not expect. The gems and jewels are embedded in the music for those ready to receive them — surface level for the first-time listener, layered revelation for those already plugged in.

The lead singles "On The Scale" (feat. Don Paul), releasing Juneteenth 2026, and sets the tone: a reckoning with what was lost, what was built, and what is owed. Following up his last single "Start Again", Adam Bomb The Raptivist is setting a stage for those who want to redeem their failures and reclaim the next level.

AdamBomb The Raptivist is not asking to be discovered. He has already risen. Take heed & bear witness.
